GERMANY WILL GIVE COMPLETE SATISFACTION TO UNITED STATES

German Ambassador Confers With Sect. Lansing and Is Expecting Another Note From His Government—National Officials Pleased With Turn of Affairs Which Were Rapidly Drifting Toward War—German Chancellor Gives Statement to the Associated Press.

By Associated Press.
Berlin, August 26.—The Associated Press is in a position to state on the best of authority that the Arabic incident may be considered eliminated as a source of discord between Germany and the United States, or at least is regarded by the German government in that light. Moreover the German government, in its desire to continue friendly relations with the United States, had adopted before the sinking of the Arabic a policy designed to settle the whole submarine problem as affecting America on the basis of good will and mutual understanding.

This is shown clearly by the statement of Chancellor Hollweg last night to the Associated Press particularly by his concluding remark to the effect that not until all of the circumstances in connection with the sinking of the Arabic had been cleared up would it be possible to say "whether the commander of one of the submarines went beyond his instructions," in which case Germany would give complete satisfaction to the United States.

pending its receipt Count von Bernstorff will remain at the Embassy in Washington.

It is confidently believed the next word from Germany will be an announcement that pending further negotiations submarine warfare on passenger ships will be discontinued and that submarine commanders already have been instructed to sink no merchant vessel without warning.

It is understood that Germany at the same time will revive her proposal for relaxation of British restrictions on neutral commerce.

In German quarters it was said that this step, which has been in contemplation in Germany for some time could now be announced because of the victories in Poland, and German officials, it was explained, considered the victories to their arms in the campaign against the Russians permit Germany to recede a step on the sea.

There is a noticeable relaxation of tension over the situation at the White House and State Department over the latest developments in the Arabic case.

It was made plain at both places today that while officials were much encouraged by the apparent desire of Germany to avert a break with the United States, the president will not finally decide on his course of action until he has before him a definite statement of the Berlin government's intentions.

It seems certain now there will be diplomatic exchanges in the Arabic case.

Washington, August 26.—Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, conferred with Secretary Lansing nearly an hour this morning and while he refused to discuss their meeting in any way it was understood the ambassador reiterated that it was not the intention of the German government that any American lives should be lost on the Arabic.

Another communication supplementing that which the ambassador transmitted to the State Department Tuesday is expected from Berlin, and

62 AIRMEN IN BIG RAID ON FACTORY

By Associated Press.
Paris, August 26.—Sixty-two French aviators on August 25 flew over a German arms factory to the north of Saarlouis, throwing a total of more than 150 shells. 30 of these were of large caliber.

Announcement of the aerial raid is made in the statement issued by the French army headquarters.

The statement reads: "On August 25 an aeroplane squadron of four groups and including a total of 62 aviators, flew over the heights of Dellingen, where there is a factory where shells and armor plate are made. The location of this plant is near Saarlouis in Prussia, 30 miles southeast of Treves.

"The aviators threw down with precision over 150 bombs, 30 of which were of large caliber."

A French aviator also raided an important railroad junction in Baden 17 miles from Karlsruhe.

So far as official reports have disclosed there never had been an air raid of such magnitude so far as concerned the number of machines employed as yesterday's attack by 62 aeroplanes. Press dispatches have indicated that the principal belligerents have built great numbers of aeroplanes and as a result of the development of this branch of the service since the outbreak of the war, these machines are now sent forth in flotillas for organized assaults.

FORTRESS OF GREATER MILITARY IMPORTANCE THAN POLISH CAPITAL

Was Distributing Point for Munitions of War—Fall Not Unexpected and Russians are Falling Back Upon Third Line of Defense Which Passes Through "White Russia."—Achievement Greatest Since Fall of Warsaw.

By Associated Press.
Berlin, via wireless, August 26.—The Russian fortress of Brest Litovsk has been captured by the Teutonic forces. Announcement to this effect was made by the German army headquarters staff. German and Austrian troops stormed the works on the western and northwestern sides and succeeded last night in entering the central fortress. The Russians then gave up the fight.

Brest Litovsk had been considered one of the strongest fortresses in Europe and was the southern base of the second Russian line of defense to which the army of Grand Duke Nicholas retreated after the fall of Warsaw.

The citadel is situated on the Bug river and at the junction of several railways, 131 miles south of Grodno and 120 miles due east of the Polish capital.

The storming of Brest Litovsk by the Teutonic forces is probably the most important military achievement since the fall of Warsaw three weeks ago today.

The town has a population of 50,000 and was one of the most important depots for, and the distributing point of military supplies near the western frontier of Russia proper. The fortress was rated a much more strategic point than was Warsaw. Brest Litovsk is situated at the junction of the Bug and Mukhovets rivers and intersecting here are railroads from Odessa, Kiev, Moscow, Warsaw, Vilna and East Prussia.

A great enveloping movement has been in progress for sometime past, which threatened to cut off Brest Litovsk from the east. Recent semi-official intimations from Petrograd have been that the Russians were preparing to give up the stronghold.

The fall of Brest Litovsk means in the opinion of military observers, that the Russians will be forced to abandon their second line of defense and fall back to the third which runs through the middle of the country known as "White Russia."

THIRD SECTION OF REPORT OUT

Labor Conditions in Corporation-Controlled Industries and the Rockefeller Foundation Held Menace to the National Welfare — Congressional Action Urged by the Commission on Industrial Relations.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—The Rockefeller foundation is attacked as a menace to the national welfare in the third section of the report of the United States commission on industrial relations. The report, which is signed by Chairman Walsh, charges Mr. Rockefeller with planning to utilize literature known to him to be untrue and misleading, as a part of the so called union educational scheme. The foundation is developing a degree of control over the teaching of professors in our colleges and universities which constitutes a most serious menace, the report says.

The labor conditions of corporation-controlled industries comprise another menace to the nation, the report finds, and charges that large corporations maintain elaborate systems of espionage over employees so that men suspected of union affiliations can be discharged.

The education and social service of the nation is rapidly coming to be dominated by men in whose hands a large part of American industry rests, says the report.

Congress is urged to compel all incorporated nonprofit-making bodies, whose funds exceed $100,000,000, to take out federal charters limiting their funds, defining their powers and placing them under inspection of federal authorities.

Congress is also urged in report to provide for a thorough investigation of all endowed institutions, both secular and religious, whose incomes or holdings exceed "a moderate amount."

The third recommendation regarding foundations is that the government should increase its work along the lines of education and social service as the only means of combatting the influence of the foundations.

THE TURK IS LOSING

London, Aug. 26.—Recent operations on the Gallipoli peninsula have enabled the allied troops to extend materially the area in their possession and to connect their lines along a front of more than twelve miles, according to an official statement issued here.

The statement indicates also that additional troops have been landed on the peninsula, although no details are given on this point, and it is stated simply that "further reinforcements have arrived." It is stated that the losses have been very heavy, but that the Turks suffered more severely than the British.

The public is warned that in spite of the encouraging report made the true objective of the operations has not been gained and that "further serious and costly efforts will be required before a decisive victory is won."

The official report set at rest rumors which have been in circulation for several days crediting the British troops with having either cut off or outflanked the Turkish forces opposed to them.

AWAIT BERLIN REPORT

Washington Hopeful Over Latest Turn In Arabic Affair.

AMICABLE ADJUSTMENT LIKELY

President Wilson Will Strive to Make the Arabic Incident Definitely Settle the Issues Between the German Imperial Government and the United States and to Obtain Guarantees as to the Future.

Washington, Aug. 26. — In compliance with Germany's request, the administration has now entered upon a period of waiting for the Berlin report on the sinking of the Arabic. In the meantime the state department is gathering further evidence through Ambassador Page at London, but action will not be taken until Germany's side of the case is officially before this government.

The relief which the imperial government's communication on the Arabic brought to the president and his advisers has become more apparent. There is no doubt now that they regard this communication of the utmost importance, not only as affording ground for hope that a crisis over the German attack on the White Star liner will be averted, but also as suggesting the possibility of reaching a satisfactory understanding in regard to the entire submarine issue.

The administration does not regard the German communication in itself as a disavowal of the Arabic incident, but it does feel that it is a step which may ultimately lead to that result and possibly other favorable developments. The administration attaches more importance to the general tone of the instructions to Count Von Bernstorff than it does to any single statement contained therein. In no other communication has Germany so clearly indicated her desire to avoid a break with the United States or so warmly expressed her solicitude for the welfare of Americans traveling on the high seas.

So hopeful are Washington officials over the latest turn in events that a determined effort is to be made in connection with the Arabic case to reach a final understanding with Germany on the entire submarine controversy. The president will seek to make this case definitely settle the issues between the United States and Germany and to obtain from Germany not only a disavowal, but guarantees as to the future. Germany thus far has failed to reply to the demands contained in the president's last note and Mr. Wilson will seize upon this opportunity to try to bring about a "showdown" on the entire submarine issue.

The administration's hope in regard to the submarine issue was further encouraged by unofficial statements made to it by close friends of Count Von Bernstorff to the effect that he believes the instructions from Berlin foreboded action by the Berlin government which will avert a crisis. The president was informed that Germany desires to maintain friendly relations with the United States, and the belief was expressed that the new message from Berlin would be of a favorable character.

Imperial Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg declared at Berlin that if the commander of a German submarine exceeded his instructions in sinking the steamer Arabic, the German government would give full satisfaction to the United States.

WILL TALK IT OVER

Port au Prince, Haiti, Aug. 26.—The government and congress having threatened to resign if the American government refused to permit a discussion of the proposed treaty which would allow the United States ten years' control of the island government finances, Washington has agreed to a discussion of the convention. The population, which has been agitated, is now more tranquil. The adherents of Dr. Rosalvo Bobo, the revolutionary leader, who left Haiti following his recent defeat for the presidency, are still in arms. They state that they will not disarm as long as their leader is denied the presidency.

USING HOUNDS ON THE TRAIL

Chicago, Aug. 26. — Bloodhounds were taken from Crown Point, Ind., to Tolleston by Sheriff Henry Whitaker and started on the trail of the murderers of the Rev. Edmund A. H. Kayser, pastor of the St. John's German Evangelical Lutheran church, who was taken from his home, bound, gagged and shot to death.

Federal authorities hastened the investigation of threatening letters which had been written to Kayser and turned over to the officers by him. These letters are thought to have been inspired by his pro-German utterances, which included frequent editorial contributions to Gary papers. The names of two women have also been linked with the case and they will be questioned by the police.

Wilson Appeals to Banks to Make Loans at Low Rates.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The administration's second step to assist the cotton growers in the situation created by the action of the allied governments in declaring the staple contraband was taken when President Wilson appealed to the bankers of the south to make cotton loans at interest rates of from 1 to 2 per cent above the actual cost of money.

The president's appeal was made in a letter to W. P. G. Harding of the federal reserve board, and Mr. Harding was authorized to read it in an address delivered by him before the Alabama Merchants' association. The president's evident intention is to secure for the cotton growers the easiest possible loan accommodations upon the $30,000,000 of government gold which Secretary McAdoo announced this week would be deposited in the southern reserve banks as it is needed.

The president expressed the hope that the producers of cotton "may feel themselves free to exact of the banks with which they deal what they undoubtedly have the right to expect" in the matter of interest rates.

AWAIT BERLIN REPORT

Washington Hopeful Over Latest Turn In Arabic Affair.

AMICABLE ADJUSTMENT LIKELY

President Wilson Will Strive to Make the Arabic Incident Definitely Settle the Issues Between the German Imperial Government and the United States and to Obtain Guarantees as to the Future.

Washington, Aug. 26.—In compliance with Germany's request, the administration has now entered upon a period of waiting for the Berlin report on the sinking of the Arabic. In the meantime the state department is gathering further evidence through Ambassador Page at London, but action will not be taken until Germany's side of the case is officially before this government.

The relief which the imperial government's communication on the Arabic brought to the president and his advisers has become more apparent. There is no doubt now that they regard this communication of the utmost importance, not only as affording ground for hope that a crisis over the German attack on the White Star liner will be averted, but also as suggesting the possibility of reaching a satisfactory understanding in regard to the entire submarine issue.

The administration does not regard the German communication in itself as a disavowal of the Arabic incident, but it does feel that it is a step which may ultimately lead to that result and possibly other favorable developments. The administration attaches more importance to the general tone of the instructions to Count Von Bernstorff than it does to any single statement contained therein. In no other communication has Germany so clearly indicated her desire to avoid a break with the United States or so warmly expressed her solicitude for the welfare of Americans traveling on the high seas.

So hopeful are Washington officials over the latest turn in events that a determined effort is to be made in connection with the Arabic case to reach a final understanding with Germany on the entire submarine controversy. The president will seek to make this case definitely settle the issues between the United States and Germany and to obtain from Germany not only a disavowal, but guarantees as to the future. Germany thus far has failed to reply to the demands contained in the president's last note and Mr. Wilson will seize upon this opportunity to try to bring about a "showdown" on the entire submarine issue.

The administration's hope in regard to the submarine issue was further encouraged by unofficial statements made to it by close friends of Count Von Bernstorff to the effect that he believes the instructions from Berlin foreboded action by the Berlin government which will avert a crisis. The president was informed that Germany desires to maintain friendly relations with the United States, and the belief was expressed that the next message from Berlin would be of a favorable character.

Imperial Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg declared at Berlin that if the commander of a German submarine exceeded his instructions in sinking the steamer Arabic, the German government would give full satisfaction to the United States.

WILL TALK IT OVER

Port au Prince, Haiti, Aug. 26.—The government and congress having threatened to resign if the American government refused to permit a discussion of the proposed treaty which would allow the United States ten years' control of the island government finances, Washington has agreed to a discussion of the convention. The population, which has been agitated, is now more tranquil. The adherents of Dr. Rosalvo Bobo, the revolutionary leader, who left Haiti following his recent defeat for the presidency, are still in arms. They state that they will not disarm as long as their leader is denied the presidency.

USING HOUNDS ON THE TRAIL TO THE POINT

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Bloodhounds were taken from Crown Point, Ind., to Tolleston by Sheriff Henry Whitaker and started on the trail of the murderers of the Rev. Edmund A. H. Kayser, pastor of the St. John's German Evangelical Lutheran church, who was taken from his home, bound, gagged and shot to death.

Federal authorities hastened the investigation of threatening letters which had been written to Kayser and turned over to the officers by him. These letters are thought to have been inspired by his pro-German utterances, which included frequent editorial contributions to Gary papers. The names of two women have also been linked with the case and they will be questioned by the police.

EDISON INJURED

West Orange, N. J., Aug. 26.—Through the error of an assistant a quantity of potash was thrown into the face of Thomas A. Edison while the inventor was working in one of his chemical plants at Silver Lake. The solution caused a severe smarting of the eyes, but Mr. Edison is again at work.

TAKES SECOND STEP TO AID COTTON MEN

Wilson Appeals to Banks to Make Loans at Low Rates.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The administration's second step to assist the cotton growers in the situation created by the action of the allied governments in declaring the staple contraband was taken when President Wilson appealed to the bankers of the south to make cotton loans at interest rates of from 1 to 2 per cent above the actual cost of money.

The president's appeal was made in a letter to W. P. G. Harding of the federal reserve board, and Mr. Harding was authorized to read it in an address delivered by him before the Alabama Merchants' association. The president's evident intention is to secure for the cotton growers the easiest possible loan accommodations upon the $30,000,000 of government gold which Secretary McAdoo announced this week would be deposited in the southern reserve banks as it is needed.

The president expressed the hope that the producers of cotton "may feel themselves free to exact of the banks with which they deal what they undoubtedly have the right to expect" in the matter of interest rates.

"Parties Unknown"

It is not surprising but it is none the less regrettable that the coroner's jury at Marietta, Georgia reports that Leo M. Frank, lynched by a mob, met his death "at the hands of parties unknown."

The failure of the coroner's jury to place the guilt for that crime committed by the mob will render more difficult the work of the grand jury about to engage in the task of presenting the guilty parties to a court of justice to answer for their crime.

It is a generally accepted truism that the courts cannot punish an entire community, and while the existence of a sentiment of hostility toward Frank and of sympathy for those who "took the law into their own hands" might have made the task of the coroner's jury impossible of performance, it does not soften the disgrace which has fallen upon the state and upon the community.

Frank's slayers may never be brought to justice. Sentiment in Georgia may prevent that and if so the disgrace of the state is doubled.

The members of the coroner's jury at Marietta may have been honest in their endeavors to ferret out the perpetrators of the crime against organized society, and if so the disgrace is but more pronounced.

A corrupt court or a corrupt jury in league with violators of the law does not evidence so low a moral standard as does an honest court and an honest jury unable to proceed because of the unrighteous sympathy existing in the community for those who perpetrate crime.

The Field of Opportunity

Evidence of the extent and the real earnestness of the movement to establish permanent trade relations of great magnitude between the people of the United States and the people of the South American nations, is furnished every day in the news columns of the daily press.

That the movement has long since passed the experimental stage is abundantly attested by the number of trade representatives from South American nations traveling extensively in this country. Daily reports of their visits to important commercial and manufacturing centers are carried in the news reports. These visits are not confined to coast cities and the large jobbing centers. The representatives of the South American people have been and are now visiting the inland cities of this country. They are passing the big jobbers by and going direct to manufacturer and producer, with the dual purpose of establishing a market for their raw material and a source of supply from which to draw the finished articles.

Government agents are busy promoting the plan of the South Americans, assembling trade organizations in many of the inland cities and towns and vouching for the credibility of the strangers now seeking to establish an acquaintance and a friendship—a task too long neglected already by this nation especially.

Never in the lifetime of this generation have such possibilities and probabilities for trade expansion and trade profit been presented to the people of the United States.

The field of opportunity for success to the young man of good habits, good business education and training, able to use the Spanish language as he would his own, is practically limitless. The rising generation, in order to grasp the opportunities, should be taught the Spanish language and be made to realize more than ever the immense reward of good habits and honest endeavor in the field of business.

With our own land filled to capacity, according to our own liberal standards, the guarantee of quick returns for good service and ability is almost as certain as it's coming was unexpected.

College Training a Great Advantage to a Boy Entering Business

By Dr. CHARLES F. THWING, LL. D., President of Western Reserve University

If a father desires his son to be a simple clerk all his life or a conductor on a railway train he will find that no special addition will be made to his worth as either a clerk or a conductor through a liberal education. BUT IF HE DESIRES HIS BOY TO BE A MANAGER OF A BUSINESS OR THE PRESIDENT OF A RAILROAD HE WILL FIND A VERY GREAT ADVANTAGE IN SENDING HIS SON TO COLLEGE.

The reason is evident, for business in its simplest and easiest relation does not require those qualities which the college develops. But business in its great and complex relations does demand and demands tremendously those qualities.

The broadly trained college man is prepared to learn business of any kind, and he learns it far more quickly by reason of his college training.

IF, THEREFORE, THE BOY ENTERING BUSINESS DESIRES TO BE THE HEAD OF THE BUSINESS HE IS TO GIVE HIMSELF THE BEST KIND OF A HEAD, AND THE COLLEGE IS THE NORMAL FORCE AND METHOD FOR MAKING BRAINS.

In the thinking which the college disciplines the quality of judgment is of supreme value. This quality the college trains.

THE GRANDSTAND MANAGER

Yes, I'm the fellow that knows it all
About the glorious sport—baseball.
I sit in the stands most every day,
And you can gamble I have my say.
I've followed the sport since but a lad,
And I know each play, both good and bad;
The rules to me are like A B C,
All "inside stuff" I can plainly see.
Each player I know by his first name,
The date when he started in the game,
I know all records from A to Z,
I'm a baseball owl, as you'll agree.
I buy my ticket, I pay the price,
I but ask no thanks for my advice;
My object's to help the boys along,
So I shout my tips out loud and strong.
My regular work is driving a truck,
Which is not my fault, but just my luck;
If I had chosen to play baseball,
You'd never have heard of Cobb at all.
No matter how close the games may be
I'm cool as an icicle, yessirree!
For I may get wise to some good play
And somehow instinctively I feel,
I give the tip for the "hit and run,"
For I know just how things should be done;
And somehow instinctively I feel,
Just the proper time to bunt or steal,
And I note each failure of the ump,
Whereat on his nibs I quickly jump;
To cinch the pennant would be child's play,
If the boys would just do what I say.

ENGLISH TO FIGHT TILL THE COUNT

London, Aug. 26. — The positive assertion that Great Britain is determined to continue to fight until Germany abandons her ambition of supremacy was made in a statement issued by Sir Edward Grey, in reply to the speech last week of Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German imperial chancellor, in the reichstag.

Sir Edward Grey's statement is a denial of the German charges with regard to the alleged plan by Britain to violate Belgium. The British foreign minister states specifically that Germany wanted war and caused it by refusing the proposal of a conference which would have settled the Servian problem.

Sir Edward formally declares that Great Britain will not discuss the freedom of the seas while there is no freedom or security against war.

STOREHOUSE OF THE MIND.

There is Nothing Occult or Mystical in the Subconscious.

Stated as briefly as possible, the subconscious may be described as that region of the human mind in which are stored the memories acquired by previous experience, education and observation.

This includes memories of sights and sounds which were perceived without our being aware of them at the time we perceived them.

Let them come within range of eye and ear, even when we are paying attention to something else, and the delicate mechanism of these sense organs registers a definite memory image of them in our minds.

Such images, together with all our other memory images, no matter how acquired, remain our permanent possession.

We are able to recall by voluntary effort only a comparatively few of our innumerable memory images. But repeated experiments as well as facts of common knowledge seem to indicate that under certain conditions any experience that we have ever had can be recalled by us. As one psychologist puts it:

"Whatever has gone into the mind can come out of the mind."

Obviously there must be a region of the mind wherein are stored these multitudinous memory images. It is to this region that psychologists refer when they use the term, "the subconscious."

But the subconscious is not only a reservoir for the storage of memory images. It is also a workshop for their manipulation, so that on occasion they may emerge, not simply as they went in, but in pleasing and often remarkable combinations.

This function of the subconscious is exemplified in many ways, from the picturesque and vivid dreams of sleep to the "inspirations" of men of genius.

In its hidden depths, it would seem, the mind is perpetually active. It is not content to hold its memory images in inert form. It must fuse and collate them, choosing for its purpose those memories in especial that are most closely linked together in a network of associated ideas.

That is why one man's subconscious is more serviceable to him than another's.

Through conscious study and reflection he has packed the secret chambers of his mind with a mass of memory images relating to one specific subject or subjects, hence naturally linked by association of ideas.

And just because he consciously focuses his attention in this direction he sets his subconscious working for the same end with the special material his conscious thinking has accumulated for it.

In a word, there is really nothing occult or mystical in the subconscious. It is simply a convenient term to designate one phase of our mental life.—H. Addington Bruce in Kansas City Star.

Wouldn't Be Wooden.

The nearsighted woman who talked to an Indian in front of a cigar store about his soul's salvation declared afterward that she would rather talk to a wooden man than be a wooden Christian and never talk to anybody.—Christian Herald.

The rising generation, in order to grasp the opportunities, should be taught the Spanish language and be made to realize more than ever the immense reward of good habits and honest endeavor in the field of business.

With our own land filled to capacity, according to our own liberal standards, the guarantee of quick returns for good service and ability is almost as certain as it's coming was unexpected.

College Training a Great Advantage to a Boy Entering Business

By Dr. CHARLES F. THWING, LL. D., President of Western Reserve University

A father desires his son to be a simple clerk all his life or a conductor on a railway train he will find that no special addition will be made to his worth as either a clerk or a conductor through a liberal education. BUT IF HE DESIRES HIS BOY TO BE A MANAGER OF A BUSINESS OR THE PRESIDENT OF A RAILROAD HE WILL FIND A VERY GREAT ADVANTAGE IN SENDING HIS SON TO COLLEGE.

The reason is evident, for business in its simplest and easiest relation does not require those qualities which the college develops. But business in its great and complex relations does demand and demands tremendously those qualities.

The broadly trained college man is prepared to learn business of any kind, and he learns it far more quickly by reason of his college training.

IF, THEREFORE, THE BOY ENTERING BUSINESS DESIRES TO BE THE HEAD OF THE BUSINESS HE IS TO GIVE HIMSELF THE BEST KIND OF A HEAD, AND THE COLLEGE IS THE NORMAL FORCE AND METHOD FOR MAKING BRAINS.

In the thinking which the college disciplines the quality of judgment is of supreme value. This quality the college trains.

THE GRANDSTAND MANAGER

Yes, I'm the fellow that knows it all About the glorious sport—baseball. I sit in the stands most every day. And you can gamble I have my say. I've followed the sport since but a lad, And I know each play, both good and bad; The rules to me are like A B C. All "inside stuff" I can plainly see. Each player I know by his first name. The date when he started in the game, I know all records from A to Z. I'm a baseball owl, as you'll agree. I buy my ticket, I pay the price. But I ask no thanks for my advice; My object's to help the boys along. So I shout my tips out loud and strong. My regular work is driving a truck. Which is not my fault, but just my luck; If I had chosen to play baseball, You'd never have heard of Cobb at all. No matter how close the games may be I'm cool as an icicle, yessirree! For I may get wise to some good play And somehow instinctively I feel, I give the tip for the "hit and run," For I know just how things should be done; And somehow instinctively I feel, Just the proper time to bunt or steal. And I note each failure of the ump. Whereat on his nibs I quickly jump; To cinch the pennant would be child's play. If the boys would just do what I say.

ENGLISH TO FIGHT TILL THE COUNT

London, Aug. 26. — The positive assertion that Great Britain is determined to continue to fight until Germany abandons her ambition of supremacy was made in a statement issued by Sir Edward Grey, in reply to the speech last week of Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German imperial chancellor, in the reichstag.

Sir Edward Grey's statement is a denial of the German charges with regard to the alleged plan by Britain to violate Belgium. The British foreign minister states specifically that Germany wanted war and caused it by refusing the proposal of a conference which would have settled the Serbian problem.

Sir Edward formally declares that Great Britain will not discuss the freedom of the seas while there is no freedom or security against war.

STOREHOUSE OF THE MIND.

There is Nothing Occult or Mystical in the Subconscious.

Stated as briefly as possible, the subconscious may be described as that region of the human mind in which are stored the memories acquired by previous experience, education and observation.

This includes memories of sights and sounds which were perceived without our being aware of them at the time we perceived them.

Let them come within range of eye and ear, even when we are paying attention to something else, and the delicate mechanism of these sense organs registers a definite memory image of them in our minds.

Such images, together with all our other memory images, no matter how acquired, remain our permanent possession.

We are able to recall by voluntary effort only a comparatively few of our innumerable memory images. But repeated experiments as well as facts of common knowledge seem to indicate that under certain conditions any experience that we have ever had can be recalled by us. As one psychologist puts it: "Whatever has gone into the mind can come out of the mind."

Obviously there must be a region of the mind wherein are stored these multitudinous memory images. It is to this region that psychologists refer when they use the term, "the subconscious."

But the subconscious is not only a reservoir for the storage of memory images. It is also a workshop for their manipulation, so that on occasion they may emerge, not simply as they went in, but in pleasing and often remarkable combinations.

This function of the subconscious is exemplified in many ways, from the picturesque and vivid dreams of sleep to the "inspirations" of men of genius. In its hidden depths, it would seem, the mind is perpetually active. It is not content to hold its memory images in inert form. It must fuse and collate them, choosing for its purpose those memories in especial that are most closely linked together in a network of associated ideas.

That is why one man's subconscious is more serviceable to him than another's.

Through conscious study and reflection he has packed the secret chambers of his mind with a mass of memory images relating to one specific subject or subjects, hence naturally linked by association of ideas.

And just because he consciously focuses his attention in this direction he sets his subconscious working for the same end with the special material his conscious thinking has accumulated for it.

In a word, there is really nothing occult or mystical in the subconscious. It is simply a convenient term to designate one phase of our mental life.—H. Addington Bruce in Kansas City Star.

Wouldn't Be Wooden.

The nearsighted woman who talked to an Indian in front of a cigar store about his soul's salvation declared afterward that she would rather talk to a wooden man than be a wooden Christian and never talk to anybody.—Christian Herald.

HOW CAN A WOMAN Bank $2.00 a Week?

Some can't do it. Most can. It depends upon the woman. Make up your account of what you spend weekly. Then cut to the bone your expenditures. Be extravagant only in saving money. Some women will say "I can't do without this"—"I can't do without that." Other women will say "I WILL do without this"—"I WILL do without that."

There is no word in the English language which pays larger dividends than WILL.

FAYETTE RURAL SCHOOLS TO OPEN SEPTEMBER 13TH

Date Is Definitely Decided Upon Wednesday Afternoon—Opening Is Delayed By Damaged Buildings—Uniform Text Books Are Recommended by District Superintendents.

All of Fayette County's Rural Schools, unless otherwise ordered by local boards of education, will open their doors for the coming term of school, on Monday, September 13th. This announcement was made public by County Superintendent Oliver S. Nelson, and in the following proclamation:

NOTICE TO TEACHERS. Unless otherwise ordered by the local Boards of Education, all Rural Schools in Fayette County will open on the second Monday in September (13th) 1915.

This change was unanimously agreed upon by the District Superintendents in charge, at a meeting held at the office of the County Superintendent, Wednesday, August 25th.

Several buildings are undergoing repairs and would not have been ready for opening on the day first fixed.

OLIVER S. NELSON, County Superintendent. As indicated in the announcement the opening was delayed one week on account of repairing the school buildings, caused by the tornado in July.

Uniform Text Books. At a meeting held Wednesday afternoon of the three district superintendents, J. M. Hartman, Frank M. Allen and Henry T. Hughes, recommendations were made, as required by law, for the adoption of uniform text books throughout the rural schools of the county and as a result this will be gradually done.

An effort will be made to displace the old books only as it is necessary to buy new books, or in other words, when the old books are worn out. The adoption of uniform text books is something which the patrons of schools have been urging for a long time, the frequent changing about and juggling of books of the various branches having been an expensive proposition to patrons.

CORONER'S VERDICT IN RALSTON'S DEATH

Coroner C. A. Teeters has filed his findings in regard to the death of Thomas Ralston, who was killed on the bridge over Paint creek, near the cemetery, by a passenger train on the Pennsylvania railroad, Thursday afternoon of last week.

The verdict was that the man came to his death by being struck by an engine and that no one was more to blame for the man's death than the deceased himself.

The deceased was buried in Chillicothe, although it is claimed he had bought and paid for a lot in the local cemetery that he might be buried beside his wife who had preceded him in death some fourteen months ago.

Coroner Teeters' verdict is given below, word for word:

"I do find that the said deceased came to his death by being hit by engine of train No. 19, on the Pennsylvania R. R., while he was on trestle across creek near the cemetery at Washington C. H., the skull being fractured at base, the right arm broken above elbow, the hip being broken, also penetrated by some instrument of sharp nature, the dorsal and lumbar vertebrae being also crushed and broken.

"I find no one more to blame for the accident than the deceased himself.

"CHAS. A. TEETERS, "Coroner of Fayette county."

COMPLETING WORK ON SCHOOL HOUSES

The half dozen or more school houses which were badly damaged during the July tornado, are now nearing completion, and by September 13th, when the rural schools open, the work will be completed and the buildings ready for occupancy.

In some instances the buildings were all but destroyed, but contracts, aggregating a snug sum, were let some little time ago and the contractors are bending every effort to complete their work on time.

The Connor, Waddell and Bunker Hill school buildings, in Concord township, were among the worst damaged, while the Taylor school, east of this city and the building on the Chillicothe pike near the Moore residence, suffered greatly.

INTERESTING SESSION SUGAR GROVE W. C. T. U.

A good attendance of the Sugar Grove W. C. T. U. marked the Wednesday afternoon meeting at the home of Mrs. Augusta Haines, and added interest was aroused by the splendid papers presented, bearing upon the subject, "Press Work."

Mrs. Elva Post was in charge of the program. Mrs. Sallie Todhunter treated of "Power of the Press;" Miss Minnie Brakefield of "The Press for Christian Temperance;" Mrs. Eva McCoy "Difficulties of W. C. T. U. Press Workers;" Mrs. Blanche Boyer "Literature or Character."

The report of the Treasurer, Mrs. Bruce Pine, made good showing for the year's work.

A duet by Miss Lora Vincent and Miss Gladys Everhart, of Greenfield, added to the pleasure of the program.

The following delegates were elected to the county W. C. T. U. convention:

Mrs. Belle Marine, Mrs. Sallie Todhunter, Mrs. Eva McCoy, Mrs. Maggie Eyre; alternates, Miss Minnie Brakefield, Mrs. Theresa Brakefield, Mrs. Pearl Darlington. Mrs. Darlington was also elected delegate to the state convention, to be held in Dayton, the last of September.

After physical culture drill, led by Miss Pine, Mrs. Haines and daughters Misses Juanita and Beata served a delicious two-course luncheon and the afternoon was closed in congenial sociability.

"HI" IS SHOWERED WITH GOBS OF GLORY

Says the Wilmington Journal:

"Heironemus Forever, Ha! to the Chieftain," is the shout of acclaim that the Wilmington base ball fans are pouring from their lusty throats. For to the beloved "Hi," is attributed much of the credit for the victory of the Clintons over the Athletics of Washington C. H., Sunday, by a score of 12 to 9, making the Wilmington team the winner of the six-game contest, with four games to their account and two to Washington's.

"For 'tis the ninth on which the Wilmington fans dote. With the S. O. S. call answered in the person of Hi, and with a terribly rattled team opposing team, the Clintons had but to reach forth their hands and gather to their throbbing bosoms the bird of victory, that came fluttering down in the shape of six—count 'em, six—runs. A little finger exercise on the adding machine gives the puzzled reader the information—that this closed the game, with the score standing Wilmington 12, and Washington 9."

STOLEN BICYCLE IS RECOVERED

Last Friday a bicycle owned by Don Jackson was stolen and no trace of the wheel could be found by Jackson until he read of a wheel being picked up by the police and investigating, found that it was the one which someone had stolen.

The tag bearing the make and number of the wheel had been pried off in order to prevent identification. The wheel had been picked up by Policeman Baughn where the thief had abandoned it.

ALL STEEL COACHES ORDERED BY B. & O.

Superintendent Brooke, of the local division of the B. & O. railroad, has announced that sometime ago, prior to the Orient wreck, the road placed an order for all steel equipment to supplant the present wooden coaches which are used when occasion demands.

It was ascertained in the Orient wreck investigation that the coach destroyed was 32 years old, and the investigators stated that loss of life would not have occurred had the coach been a steel one.

DERRICK FALLS MAN IS INJURED

Adam Blazer, well known veteran of the civil war, was badly, although not seriously injured, Thursday morning, when a derrick at the cemetery, where a grave was being prepared, fell, striking him and inflicting several bruises and cuts.

Mr. Blazer was brought into this city and medical attention rendered. At one o'clock he was resting very easy, and no serious results are anticipated.

HONOR CONFERRED UPON LOCAL TURFMAN

A signal honor has been conferred upon Mr. Howard C. Allen, well known horseman and turf correspondent of this city, in his having been chosen Superintendent of the State Fair Horse Show, held in Columbus next week.

The horse show, booked for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights will be the distinctive and brilliant event of Fair week, and one of the Fair's biggest drawing cards.

BUDGET COMMISSION HOLDS TWO MEETINGS

The Budget Commission and County Superintendent of Schools O. S. Nelson, went to Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville Thursday afternoon, to meet with the Boards of Education and town officials with a view to reaching some definite conclusion regarding the amount of money necessary for the towns and Boards of Education for the coming year.

D. T. & I. FACES TROUBLE WITH THE B. & O. R. R.

The temporary restraining order enjoining the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Railroad Company from terminating the contract under which the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad Company has been operating trains over its right of way between Bloom Station and Jackson, Ohio, was issued yesterday by United States District Judge John E. Sater, of Columbus, upon the filing of the local Court of a suit in equity by the D. T. & I. seeking the aid of the Court in preserving its rights under the contract.

In the bill of complaint the D. T. & I. Company sets out that on October 2, 1905, it entered into an agreement with the C. H. & D. Railway Company and the B. & O. S. W. Railway Company for the use of the latter company's tracks from Bloom Station, in Scioto County, Ohio, to Jackson, Jackson County, Ohio, a distance of 24 miles, from October 2, 1905, until December 31, 1930. For the privilege it agreed to pay a monthly rental of $1,041.67 and a certain percentage of the cost of repairing and maintaining, improving and keeping up the property, together with a certain percentage of the salaries of employees and other expenses incurred in the common service of the parties. In May, 1906 the C. H. & D. Company withdrew from the agreement, the complainant says, and since that time the agreement has been in force between the complainant and defendant in the case.

It is averred that the leased line has been a part of its main line and that the complainant has no other connection between that part of its railroad which lies north of Jackson and south of Bloom Station except the line leased from the defendant company under the agreement of October, 1905, and that if the lease should be terminated by the defendant company it would be unable to operate its railroad successfully and would suffer great damage.

Should the D. T. & I. lose in the action brought, it will be either forced to build 24 miles of new track between Jackson and Bloom Station or have its southern terminal at Jackson—a thing which would probably seriously cripple the road.

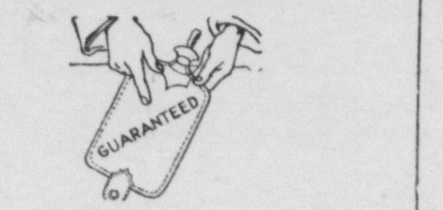

FALL FESTIVAL

One of the biggest expositions ever held in this county will take place next week, starting Monday evening and continuing for the rest of the week. It will be termed the Odd Fellows' Fall Festival and hundreds of visitors from surrounding towns will be in attendance.

There will be street parades, band concerts, free acts and twelve big midway shows and about thirty other attractions, which will make up the greatest out door event ever held in this city. Neither time nor expense is being spared by the committee in charge, and everything will be done within their power in making it a gigantic success.

Col. Francis Ferari Shows United which have been contracted to furnish all of the out door attraction has had advance representatives in town for the past week arranging the final details pertaining to the affair and assisting the committee in their work. The city and country has been billed for miles around setting forth that Washington C. H. will be the

Last Friday a bicycle owned by Don Jackson was stolen and no trace of the wheel could be found by Jackson until he read of a wheel being picked up by the police and investigating, found that it was the one which someone had stolen.

The tag bearing the make and number of the wheel had been pinned in order to prevent identification. The wheel had been picked up by Policeman Baughn where the thief had abandoned it.

ALL STEEL COACHES ORDERED BY B. & O.

Superintendent Brooke, of the local division of the B. & O. railroad, has announced that sometime ago, prior to the Orient wreck, the road placed an order for all steel equipment to supplant the present wooden coaches which are used when occasion demands.

It was ascertained in the Orient wreck investigation that the coach destroyed was 32 years old, and the investigators stated that loss of life would not have occurred had the coach been a steel one.

DERRICK FALLS MAN IS INJURED

Adam Blazer, well known veteran of the civil war, was badly, although not seriously injured, Thursday morning, when a derrick at the cemetery, where a grave was being prepared, fell, striking him and inflicting several bruises and cuts.

Mr. Blazer was brought into this city and medical attention rendered. At one o'clock he was resting very easy, and no serious results are anticipated.

HONOR CONFERRED UPON LOCAL TURFMAN

A signal honor has been conferred upon Mr. Howard C. Allen, well known horseman and turf correspondent of this city, in his having been chosen Superintendent of the State Fair Horse Show, held in Columbus next week.

The horse show, booked for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights will be the distinctive and brilliant event of Fair week, and one of the Fair's biggest drawing cards.

BUDGET COMMISSION HOLDS TWO MEETINGS

The Budget Commission and County Superintendent of Schools O. S. Nelson, went to Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville Thursday afternoon, to meet with the Boards of Education and town officials with a view to reaching some definite conclusion regarding the amount of money necessary for the towns and Boards of Education for the coming year.

D. T. & I. FACES TROUBLE WITH THE B. & O. R. R.

The temporary restraining order enjoining the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Railroad Company from terminating the contract under which the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad Company has been operating trains over its right of way between Bloom Station and Jackson, Ohio, was issued yesterday by United States District Judge John E. Sater, of Columbus, upon the filing of the local Court of a suit in equity by the D. T. & I. seeking the aid of the Court in preserving its rights under the contract.

In the bill of complaint the D. T. & I. Company sets out that on October 2, 1905, it entered into an agreement with the C. H. & D. Railway Company and the B. & O. S. W. Railway Company for the use of the latter company's tracks from Bloom Station, in Scioto County, Ohio, to Jackson, Jackson County, Ohio, a distance of 24 miles, from October 2, 1905, until December 31, 1930. For the privilege it agreed to pay a monthly rental of $1,041.67 and a certain percentage of the cost of repairing and maintaining, improving and keeping up the property, together with a certain percentage of the salaries of employees and other expenses incurred in the common service of the parties. In May, 1906 the C. H. & D. Company withdrew from the agreement, the complainant says, and since that time the agreement has been in force between the complainant and defendant in the case.

It is averred that the leased line has been a part of its main line and that the complainant has no other connection between that part of its railroad which lies north of Jackson and south of Bloom Station except the line leased from the defendant company under the agreement of October, 1905, and that if the lease should be terminated by the defendant company it would be unable to operate its railroad successfully and would suffer great damage.

Should the D. T. & I. lose in the action brought, it will be either forced to build 24 miles of new track between Jackson and Bloom Station or have its southern terminal at Jackson—a thing which would probably seriously cripple the road.

FALL FESTIVAL

One of the biggest expositions ever held in this county will take place next week, starting Monday evening and continuing for the rest of the week. It will be termed the Odd Fellows' Fall Festival and hundreds of visitors from surrounding towns will be in attendance.

There will be street parades, band concerts, free acts and twelve big midway shows and about thirty other attractions, which will make up the greatest out door event ever held in this city. Neither time nor expense is being spared by the committee in charge, and everything will be done within their power in making it a gigantic success.

Col. Francis Ferari Shows United which have been contracted to furnish all of the out door attraction has had advance representatives in town for the past week arranging the final details pertaining to the affair and assisting the committee in their work. The city and country has been billed for miles around setting forth that Washington C. H. will be the Tearing Sounds.

The ear can be trained to accustom itself to the sound of the tearing of various materials. The noise accompanying the tearing of cotton is unlike that of linen. The warp has its voice and the filling quite another, the former being shrill, while the latter is apt to be dull.

Those Dear Girls.

Alice (just engaged)—What do you think Jack said to me last night? That if he had to choose either me or $10,000 he wouldn't look at the money. Marie—Dear, loyal fellow! Wouldn't like to risk the temptation, I suppose.—Boston Transcript.

Too Timid.

In Social Circles

Mr. Edwards Hopkins entertained Wednesday evening with a motoring party and dinner at Maple Grove Hotel, in compliment to Miss Katharine Kelley, of Xenia. The additional guests were Misses Jean Howat and Marie Mobley; Messrs James McDonald and James Ballard.

Lillian Alberta Teeters, the seven year old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. Teeters, celebrated her birthday with an exceedingly pretty party Wednesday afternoon.

Twenty little girls were invited and the afternoon was delightfully spent in games of all kinds.

The children were seated at a big table, decked in pink and white, and served with a dainty collation. They were greatly entertained by finding the large birthday cake, with blazing pink candles, was really an immense hollow box, filled with presents. Each child drew a gift by pulling the ribbon extending from underneath the cake to her plate.

Mrs. Teeters was assisted in entertaining the girls by Misses Ruth, Martha and Helen Teeters and Dorothy Dill.

The fortnightly Guild Kensington of the Presbyterian church was thoroughly enjoyed by a number of women at the home of Mrs. W. B. Snider, Wednesday afternoon, with Mesdames Calvin Holmes, J. W. Duffee, Clarence Baer, Wm. Slagle, Harry Rankin, Pyley, O'Ferrel and Miss Rilla Coffman assisting hostesses.

Zenias and marigolds were prettily arranged in the rooms and a dainty repast served.

LINDSEY—CAMPBELL

Rev. Frederick E. Ross united in marriage two well known young people of Madison Mills, Miss Bertha Campbell, and Mr. Thomas Lindsey, of Grace church parsonage, Wednesday afternoon.

The young couple expect to make their home temporarily at Madison Mills, and later go to Detroit, Mich.

"SATAN DAY"

World's Most Daring Aviator in Wonderful Aerial War Maneuvers Each Day at Farmers' Fall Festival, Chillicothe, Ohio, Sept. 20th to 26th.

The Farmers' Fall Festival Association of Chillicothe has contracted with "Satan Day" one of the most fearless dare-devil Aviators in the world to give to the visitors at the Third Annual Fall Festival a series of life-like demonstrations of European aerial warfare. This exhibition is the first of its kind in Southern Ohio. It is the most expensive and highest salaried free attraction ever offered at a Fair or Festival where no admission is charged.

The policy of the 1915 Festival will be the same as the Festivals of preceding years—"Everything Free" the poorest individual can bring his entire family and enjoy the hospitality of the Business Life of Chillicothe without the outlay of a single penny. It is all "Free" and every one is invited.

Mr. F. D. Hutchinson for 25 years manager of "Buffalo Bill" after visiting the Fall Festival pronounced it "The Greatest Exposition yet conceived." This year it will far exceed in completeness the Festival that occasioned the above remark. Everything has been increased; one solid mile of beautiful decorative Display Booths, housing the displays and demonstrations of Chillicothe Merchants; the most wonderful electric display ever given in Southern Ohio; Monster Pageants each day; Bands Galore; most exhaustive school and educational exhibit; Beautiful Horse Show in the New Electric Stadium; two Exposition Halls; Fruit and vegetable show; Big Fireworks; Aerial Tower and see-saw; with countless other attractions. ALL FREE.

Chillicothe is preparing to take care of the enormous crowds that are coming. Besides the hotels hundreds of homes will be thrown open to visitors. These will be easily available on inquiry at Bureau of Information, where a splendid service will be maintained all week.

Complete Official programs containing the events of each day can be secured by inquiry, mail or phone, Fall Festival Association, Chillicothe, Ohio.

Arrange your motor parties for several days' visit at the Farmers' Fall Festival.

OHIO'S NEW BOARD OF AGRICULTURE

ALTHOUGH handicapped by the fact that the law creating the new non-partisan board of agriculture has only recently become operative, the ten members of the board and its secretary, who have charge of the state fair this year, have by hearty co-operation and energetic action more than made up for lost time and the fair this year promises to be the biggest and best in the whole history of the state. The board was appointed by the governor on July 22. It is pledged strictly to non-partisanship in all matters. Five members, Messrs. Patterson, Williamson, West, Branson and Begg, are Republicans. The other five are Democrats. Mr. John Begg is president of the board.

JOHN BEGG OF COLUMBUS GROVE, President of the Board.

To know a thing well and to know how to tell it well is a rare attainment, and in casting about for a real illustrative type of this sort of genius, the spotlight must needs turn when it picks out John Begg of Columbus Grove. Twenty-one years ago Mr. Begg took up farmers' institute lecturing as a sideline. Now at the age of 69 he gives most of his time to the telling of how modern farming ought to be done and none is better known on the institute platform than he. The board, appreciating Mr. Begg's splendid gifts and attainments, elected him its president.

R. C. WILLIAMSON OF XENIA.
People who are looking for a man who knows sheep need go no farther than R. C. Williamson of Xenia. President of the American Delaine-Merino Sheep Raisers' association, Mr. Williamson is a walking encyclopedia on sheep raising. And he's a general farmer, too. For 12 years he has been a member of the Greene County Agricultural association and was for eight years its president.

I. S. MYERS OF AKRON.
There is one member of the board who lives in the twilight zone between the farm and the city. I. S. Myers, bona fide resident of the city of Akron and head of the I. S. Myers clothing store there, has a big farm ten miles south of Akron and likes to be known as a farmer. He raises fancy fruits and celery. He is an inveterate fisherman and heads the Portage Fish and Game Protective association, probably the biggest thing of its kind in the state.

N. L. BUNNELL OF LEBANON.
If one member more than another has a special literary bent, that's Newton L. Bunnell of Lebanon. His name has been seen frequently in past years in agricultural and other magazines and not so very long ago the North American Review blazed forth with one of his productions. It was an intimate and scientific story of farm organization and the resulting advantage. But Mr. Bunnell's main pursuit in life is general farming.

C. A. BRANSON OF CADIZ.

Each member of the board is a clean-cut type, illustrative of the good human products of the farm. There's C. A. Branson, for example. He could pass for a New England Episcopal minister if he wanted to. Or he could lead a grand march just as well. Branson was in college at Oberlin when a sudden call came from home. Death had summoned his father. In one week the care-free college youth of 19 was manager of the Branson farm near Cadiz. For 16 years he's stuck to the job unflinchingly. He has specialized in Shorthorn cattle and Percheron horses and is a connoisseur in other farming lines.

C. K. PATTERSON OF PIKETON.

To introduce C. K. Patterson of Piketon is to introduce in the same breath the secretary of the Pike County Agricultural society and a farmer of long and thorough training. Mr. Patterson is an intimate student of things agricultural and specialized in milling and hog feeding. His 250 acres, four miles south of Piketon are among the best of which the county can boast. Mr. Patterson is a lover of fast horses and will have charge of the speed events at the state fair.

T. B. WEST OF PERRY.

Something like a half century ago when a certain and particular baby was born in Lincolnshire, England, not even its parents suspected that some day it would become a member of the state board of agriculture of Ohio, U. S. A. But that is just what did happen. T. B. West of Perry was that English baby. His parents crossed the sea and came straight to Lake county, Ohio. Their boy took to farming like a fish to water. He is known now as one of the best nurserymen in Lake county.

DR. J. W. KIRGAN OF CINCINNATI.

A physician, an insurance manager and a real live fish and game enthusiast—that's a thumb-nail sketch of Dr. J. W. Kirgan of Cincinnati. Dr. Kirgan is the only member who is not in some way engaged in practical farming. But until he was 25 he lived on a farm near Mt. Carmel, where he was born. He taught high school at Batavia and was a member of the board of school examiners of Clermont county for four years. In 1903 he was graduated from the Miami Medical college in Cincinnati.

DONALD R. ACKLIN OF PERRYSBURG.

The "baby" of the state board—that's Donald R. Acklin of Perrysburg. He's barely 30; graduate of Ohio State university's agricultural school, class of '08, specializes in Percheron horses and Yorkshire swine; is secretary of the Wood County Live Stock Breeders' association; member of the executive committee of the Ohio Swine Breeders' association. Acklin has a big reputation as a judge of horses. It was his judging team at Ohio State that got the bronze trophy given by the French government to the university.

D. D. SNIDER OF PATASKALA.

People in Licking county always associate D. D. Snider of Pataskala with the telephone business just as intimately as they connect him with farming and dairying. Truth is, Mr. Snider is a real telephone magnate in his part of the state. Eight years ago he led in the organization of the Pataskala Farmers' Telephone Company and ever since he has been its president. It has 600 subscribers. Mr. Snider is a thorough farmer, too, and he's the Licking county delegate now to the state grange.

SECRETARY RENICK W. DUNLAP.

Renick W. Dunlap, the secretary of the new board, is the real executive of the fair. Back of him stand the members of the board ready to shoulder the responsibility of success or failure, but the details, the plans, the constantly arising problems, the unending worries—they are Dunlap's. Because of the lateness of the season when the new agricultural regime came into being, everything must be done in a hurry, but it is this very necessity that makes Dunlap the man of the hour.

TRIP TO PANAMA FOR FAIR VISITORS

GREAT SPECTACULAR ENTERTAINMENT PROVIDED BY STATE FAIR MANAGEMENT.

AS REAL AS A TRIP ALONG THE CANAL

Wonderful Engineering and Scenic Effects of the Great Waterway to Be Unfolded Before Eyes of Those Fortunate Enough to Get to Fair.

There's a world of opportunity open to the people of the state at the coming state fair, to those who have not had a chance to visit Uncle Sam's great new waterway connecting the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans, for the fair is going to portray the Panama canal in all its splendor. The wonderful waterway will be reproduced to a mechanical nicety in a new pyrotechnic and scenic display. This reproduction is the latest work of the Thearle-Pain company and is officially known as "The Opening of the Panama Canal," and "Uncle Sam's Reception to the World."

The scenic reproduction at the fair will show many thrilling spectacles to depict the grandeur of the canal's opening and to illustrate how the world was thrilled by the completion of one of civilization's greatest exploits. It is said that the artists who conceived this spectacle labored upon it longer and with more care than upon any like display in the history of pyrotechnic scenes.

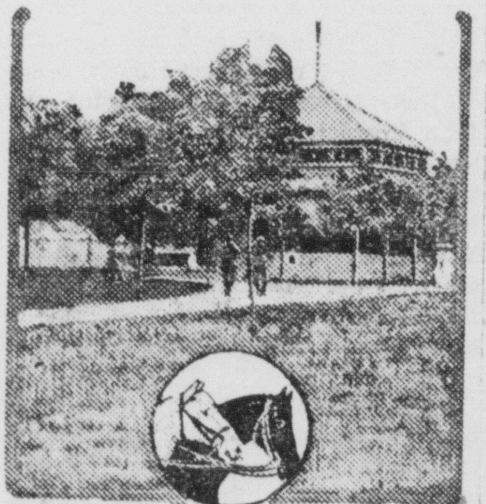

The scenic setting or picture is more than 400 feet long and shows a portion of the old Panama City with its interesting wharves, market places, churches, building of old Spanish architecture; then the Great Spillway, the Miraflores and the Pedro Miguel locks, Culebra, Rio Chagres, Limon Bay, with Gold Hill towering above, and in the distance the Gatun locks and the Atlantic ocean.

The lights in the lighthouses, in the official buildings, in the hotels and on the battleships give a beautiful scenic effect by night. High power searchlights and a wireless station in operation are among the remarkable features. There will be shown also real aeroplanes and dirigibles, handled by living operators. Implements of warfare of a new order will be shown and correct models of the men of war of the different nations.

There will be represented in the various activities 250 actors, representing people of all the nations, from the highest dignitaries of the United States down to the picturesque natives of Central and Southern America.

big night horse shows that will be given during the exposition. The very highest type of horse flesh is going to be given a chance to display the brilliant effects of training and breed. If there is such a thing as aristocracy among horses, then the cream of the equine upper classes will be in clover at the fair. A keen lover of horses himself, Secretary Dunlap of the new state board of agriculture has personally inaugurated the horse show feature. He is going to look after it himself because he is going to take a personal pride in this part of the big show.

EXTRA!

There is also going to be given an exhibition of trained horses and ponies. The arrangements have just been made for this. It is said to be one of the best schools of intelligent horses in the country and its pupils to be able to perform stunts that are almost uncanny.

Marvels in Farm Machinery on Display

AMONG THE SILOS.

ONE of the most interesting of the pre-fair features is the veritable stampede of exhibitors for space at the state fair this year. The entries are coming in so fast that the capacity of the big corps of people attached to the state fair management is being taxed to the utmost. The live stock entries have been particularly heavy and the live stock show, according to an official prediction, easily will be the biggest in the history of the state. More than 800 horses and 1,000 cattle already have been entered. The sheep, swine and poultry are running into the thousands.

Already all the machinery buildings have been sold out and "overflow" space is being granted. The same is true of practically all the other exhibits. This is clearly indicative of the fact that the most cordial feeling exists between the exhibitors as a class and the fair management. There is a spirit of co-operation that will make the coming fair the greatest in Ohio's history.

PREPARING FOR LARGE CROWDS

Both the Columbus Railway, Power & Light company and the Big Four railroad already are completing their plans for the carrying of visitors from Columbus to the state fair grounds. Both the electric lines and the steam road are planning to use more cars this year than ever, owing to the general expectation of greater crowds. The street railroad, as usual, will run hundreds of extra cars to the fair grounds every day of the fair, while the Big Four company will continue to carry people direct from the Union Station at Columbus to the fair grounds.

There will be information bureaus for the benefit of visitors at the fair grounds, in the state house yard, in the fair grounds and at other places in Columbus. Columbus hotel keepers and boarding house proprietors are "sprucing up" for the occasion of the fair. Extra accommodations are being provided for. All the hotels are asking commercial travelers, wherever possible, to avoid Columbus during fair week, in order that all possible space may be given to the fair crowds.

COMFORT OF VISITORS FIRST CONSIDERATION

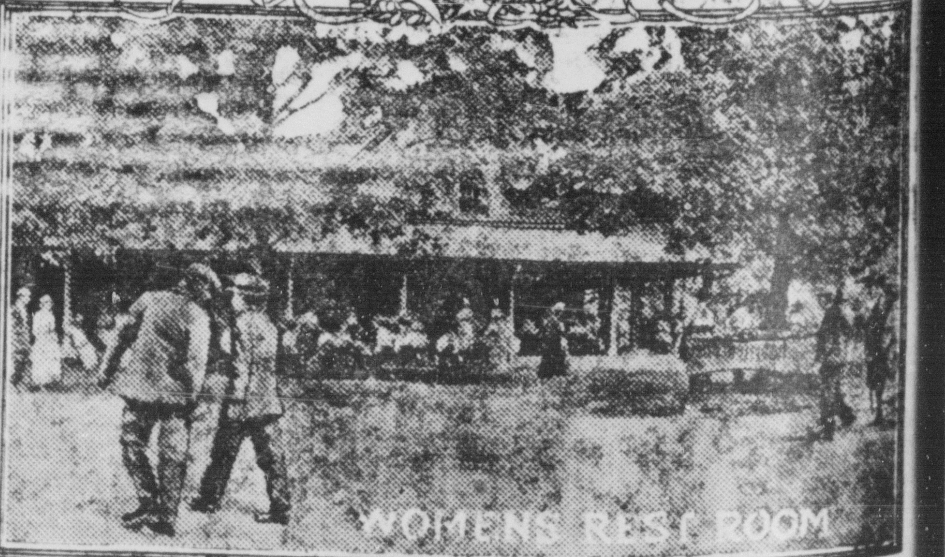

State Fair Management Making Every Effort to Take Care of Wants of Crowds Who Will Visit This Year's Fair.

"HEALTH AND COMFORT FIRST!" That is the ringing slogan of this year's state fair management. In no previous exposition in the history of Ohio have more careful plans been made for the comfort and well-being of the tens of thousands of visitors who will swoop down upon Columbus just prior to the week of August 30. Not gate receipts, nor financial showing, nor eagerness to please exhibitors or concessionaires will be allowed to stand in the way of the real convenience of the visitors—the people who will make the fair.

No time or money or pains has been spared to make happy and welcome those who come for the fair. The ten men, members of the new state board of agriculture, have determined to place the interests of the visitor first. They are the men who have the fair in charge. It is their secretary, Renick W. Dunlap, who has given out the word that nothing shall stand before the guests of the fair.

So it is that the most elaborate plans have been made for the fitting of rest rooms, for the hiring of special attendants, for the cleaning of buildings and grounds, and for the making of arrangements that will give special attention to women and children.

The health of the grounds is going to be guarded as never before. Infection-carrying flies will be fought to a standstill. Milk and water supplies will be inspected hourly. Rules will be made requiring constant cleanliness of all food and refreshments. In fact, the co-operation of the Columbus health officials has been enlisted and food and general health inspectors will be continuously on the grounds.

Big Race Meet at State Fair

UNDER the management of C. K. Patterson of Piketon, member of the board of agriculture, the race meet at the state fair this year is going to be a real "hummer." The entrants are more enthusiastic than ever before in the history of Ohio fairdom and devotees of speed thrills are going to have a paradise of excitement. Classy thoroughbreds already are being worked out in their paces in anticipation of the fair events and the track is being put into fine condition. Special arrangements are being made for the convenience of women who are fond of witnessing fast horses at their best. The following program will give an inkling of what is to be expected:

There are many styles in newspaper advertising and the small announcement, which costs only five cents, is just as effective in its way as the larger one, which costs proportionately more. The benefits to be derived can not be measured by the size of the ad, for the very good reason that the small, inexpensive announcement invariably proves effective. Newspaper advertising costs from five cents up to any price the advertiser desires to pay.

Plattsburg, N. He added that they should be encouraged so that we may be able to add our own when the hour of peril comes to us in our turn." Mr. Roosevelt added: "The man who believes in peace at any price or in substituting all-inclusive arbitration treaties for any army and navy should instantly move to China. If he stays here, then more many people will have to defend him, and he is not worth defending. It is defensible to state that we stand by the country, right or wrong.
